LISTENING TEST

In the Listening test, you will be asked to demonstrate how well you understand spoken English. The entire Listening test will last approximately 45 minutes. There are four parts, and directions are given for each part. You must mark your answers on the separate answer sheet. Do not write your answers in your test book.

PART 1

Directions: For each question in this part, you will hear four statements about a picture in your test book. When you hear the statements, you must select the one statement that best describes what you see in the picture. Then find the number of the question on your answer sheet and mark your answer. The statements will not be printed in your test book and will be spoken only one time.

Statement (D), "They are taking photographs," is the best description of the picture, so you should select answer (D) and mark it on your answer sheet.

Questions 147-148 refer to the following e-mail.

To:	Lois Catrell <loiscatrell@vargomail.com>
From:	Scott Garvey <s_garvey@cityviewmovingco.com>
Date:	June 30
Subject:	Cityview Moving Co. Follow-up

Dear Ms. Catrell,

Thank you for considering Cityview Moving Co. for your forthcoming residential relocation. During our recent telephone conversation, you indicated that your residence comprises a three-bedroom apartment. Based on the dimensions and the inventory you provided, we estimate that the cost of the move will fall within the range of $1,800 to $2,300. As arranged, I will stop by your property tomorrow at 10 A.M. to assess its contents and give you a more accurate custom quote. Regarding the antique furniture pieces that you have, please rest assured that they will be handled by our experienced team with the utmost care. We understand that special items such as these are both expensive and irreplaceable, and we treat them as such.

Best,

Scott

147. Why will Mr. Garvey visit Ms. Catrell's property?

(A) To pick up some boxes
(B) To drop off some paperwork
(C) To prepare an estimate
(D) To measure some rooms

148. What is suggested about Ms. Catrell?

(A) She has obtained quotes from various businesses.
(B) She is relocating from one city to another.
(C) She expressed concern about some valuable items.
(D) She has used Mr. Garvey's business in the past.

Sophie Lewis [1:25 P.M.]
I'm working on the gift bags for the Cosmetics Expo. I'm adding a variety of skincare and makeup samples and tying some silver ribbon on the bags as decoration. How soon do you need them?

Neal Vanburen [1:26 P.M.]
By tomorrow at noon. Thanks! Did you put a business card inside each one?

Sophie Lewis [1:27 P.M.]
I decided to tape them to the outside. I think they'll be more noticeable that way. I can send you some photos.

Neal Vanburen [1:28 P.M.]
You know better than me. I'm sure they already look great. Thanks for all your hard work.

Sophie Lewis [1:30 P.M.]
My pleasure. If you need anything else done, just let me know.

151. What does Ms. Lewis inquire about?

Questions 156-157 refer to the following brochure.

AQ Tour Company is the top-rated firm for riverboat tours, welcoming thousands of passengers aboard every year. Make your trip memorable with a ride down Vogel River on our beautiful boat, Sunny Voyager. On board, you can enjoy our casual café for lighter bites or something more sophisticated in our fine-dining restaurant, whichever suits your mood. The enormous vessel has an open-air observation deck on top for those who love fresh air and a climate-controlled interior with floor-to-ceiling windows on both sides.

Along the river, you'll see several chapels, the Alhambra Observatory, Lyon Waterfall, and more. One highlight is the historic Satterfield Manor, which was recently restored by the Midwich Heritage Foundation and is truly an impressive sight to behold. The building is closed to the public and hidden from view from the roadway, but reveals itself to those traveling on our vessel, so do not miss this opportunity to enjoy its 15th century architecture.

Visit www.aqtourco.com to book a departure from Coral Pier or Beacon Harbor. We operate this tour from mid-April to late October.

156. What is indicated about Sunny Voyager?

(A) It features two dining establishments.
(B) It offers a wide variety of onboard activities.
(C) It embarks on tours from Alhambra Observatory.
(D) It has recently been upgraded with modern amenities.

157. What is suggested about Satterfield Manor?

(A) It was originally used as a chapel.
(B) It can only be seen from the river.
(C) It was damaged in the 15th century.
(D) It is maintained by AQ Tour Company.

Are you new to rain barrels?

Harnessing rainwater in a barrel is not only an environmentally friendly choice but also a practical method to significantly decrease your water consumption. Our Web site features a series of comprehensive tutorial videos designed to guide you through every step of the process, from installation to ongoing maintenance, ensuring your rain barrel operates at maximum efficiency. — [1] —.

Get the benefits!

Setting up a rain barrel requires only basic tools and a straightforward installation process, making it accessible for nearly everyone. — [2] —. Once your barrel is properly affixed to your home's downspout system, you can effortlessly collect free water every time it rains. The collected rainwater is untreated and free of the harsh chemicals commonly found in tap water, making it ideal for use in your garden. — [3] —. Moreover, the water's temperature naturally adjusts to the surrounding environment, creating optimal conditions for your plants, which may otherwise struggle with colder tap water.

A barrel to suit everyone!

At Summit Rain Barrels, we offer an extensive range of sizes and designs, with capacities varying from 100 to 500 liters, ensuring we meet the needs of every household. — [4] —. Wall-mounted barrels provide a space-saving alternative without sacrificing capacity, so they can be a good option. Explore our catalog today to find the perfect rain barrel for your needs!

158. What are visitors able to do on the Web site?

(A) Find tips on using less water at home
(B) Discuss rain barrel issues with other customers
(C) Watch videos on planting gardens

Questions 164-167 refer to the following article.

EASTON, May 12 — At Wednesday's monthly city council meeting, members discussed a number of park improvement projects that will benefit the public. The projects are made possible by a federal grant, which was given to the city last week, and will satisfy increasing demand among local residents for better recreational amenities. The city has applied for such grants many times over the years. — [1] —.

"Public green spaces are an important component of the well-being of residents," city council member Walter Buchanan said. "It's wonderful to have the opportunity to move forward on projects we've been considering for a long time. — [2] —."

Upcoming work will focus solely on Laurel Park. Bleachers for spectators will be built on both sides of the soccer field there, and ramps will be added next to the steps leading to the picnic shelter by the walking path to accommodate those with walking difficulties. These two projects will be carried out by Parks and Recreation employees. — [3] —. There are also plans to build a bridge to connect the small island on Stoney Lake to the shoreline. As this work requires a specialist, the city is currently accepting bids for the work. To submit one, e-mail Elena Ramos at e.ramos@easton.gov.

The remainder of the funds has not yet been designated. — [4] —. Therefore, residents are invited to attend a meeting on May 31 at the Easton Community Center to share their opinions.

E-mail Message

To: Albert Chaney <a.chaney@topqualityins.com>
From: Heather Phillips <heather@greenscape-services.com>
Date: April 26
Subject: GreenScape Services

Dear Mr. Chaney,

It was a pleasure to speak to you on the phone today. I have updated our records. Beginning May 1, we will increase the frequency of lawn mowing at your Hickory Street commercial property to twice a month rather than the current monthly schedule. Accordingly, your monthly payment for lawn mowing will increase to $70.

Additionally, in the flowerbed, our team will take out the broken statue and replace it with a selection of new plants, including climbing roses. To support the roses, we will install a sturdy frame that complements your garden's style. Please continue to ensure that the gate to this part of the garden is unlocked whenever our team is scheduled to arrive. Our ongoing services will continue to include the weeding of the flowerbeds as needed, ensuring that your garden remains well-maintained throughout the year. Please note that the fee for these services covers the disposal of all garden waste.

We understand that you have an operation in Bloomington as well. That falls under our service area, and we already have numerous other clients in the region, so we would be happy to provide assistance at that site. Please let me know if this is of interest to you.

Regards,

Heather Phillips

Questions 172-175 refer to the following online chat discussion.

Oscar Ross	Grace, Dominic, do either of you know what's going on with the boxes in the hallway on the second floor? There's a big stack of about seven or eight of them, next to the elevator. [2:17 P.M.]
Grace Marsden	Those were dropped off by Northbrook Couriers this morning. I don't know who signed for them, but they're addressed to Susan Pearce. I checked to see if there was any label saying what's inside, but there wasn't. [2:19 P.M.]
Oscar Ross	We've got to move them. They're in a high-traffic area. I don't want anyone to trip over them and get hurt, especially a visitor. Do you know why Ms. Pearce hasn't moved them yet? [2:20 P.M.]
Dominic Hawley	She's not in the office this week. She went to Singapore yesterday to discuss the terms of the trade agreement with Pandan Manufacturing. I'm not sure when she'll be back. [2:21 P.M.]
Grace Marsden	As far as I know, her return flight is scheduled for Friday, and she'll be back in the office on Monday. [2:23 P.M.]
Oscar Ross	Okay, now I see why they've gone untouched, but I don't think we can wait until Monday. Do you have any idea what she wants done with them? [2:26 P.M.]
Dominic Hawley	Mr. Curran works closely with Ms. Pearce. [2:27 P.M.]
Grace Marsden	Right. He's your best chance. [2:29 P.M.]
Oscar Ross	All right. Thanks! [2:30 P.M.]

Book Review: Team Dynamics: Building Effective Collaboration

This book is useful for anyone who wants to understand how teams function. The publisher, KL Publishing House, is one of my favorites because its Web site has supplemental case studies, templates, checklists, and more. As the book's introduction provides foundational knowledge about managing teams in general, it would not be of much use to experienced managers. However, there are a lot of topics covered in the book's essays. Ravi Anagal's essay on conflict resolution provides numerous practical tools. I have already had the opportunity to try some of these strategies in my workplace, and they have been surprisingly successful. Ms. Lei's advice for defining roles within the team was sensible and constructive.

I was deeply impressed with all of the essays in the book, with one exception. In my opinion, Frank Melgar's commentary on increasing motivation was not broad enough. His methods would only work well on recognition-oriented individuals, which is a small percentage of most employees. Overall, despite some shortcomings, I believe that reading this book is well worth your time.

— Lucas Kemp

Subject:	My advertisement

Dear Ms. Watt,

Earlier this week, I placed an order for an advertisement in The Daily Reporter for an anniversary sale that my hardware store is having this weekend. I paid the applicable $80 fee by credit card and e-mailed the information for the ad. Today was the first day that your newspaper ran the ad, and I was disappointed to see that it contained a number of errors.

First of all, the ad was supposed to be in the Lifestyle section of the paper, but it was included in the Politics section. Also, I wanted the phone number at the top of the ad, along with the address, but you printed the address at the top and the phone number at the bottom. Finally, and most problematic, the ad said our hours of operation are daily from 8 A.M. to 8 P.M. While we do open daily at 8 A.M., we close earlier — at 7 P.M. — on the weekend. This was included in the information I sent, so I'm not sure what went wrong.

Please correct these errors before the next edition of the newspaper comes out.

Sincerely,

Robert Hirschman

Subject: Re: My advertisement

Dear Mr. Hirschman,

On behalf of The Daily Reporter, please accept my sincerest apologies for the issues you experienced with your ad. The ad will be adjusted according to your specifications and the correct version will appear for the remainder of the time you paid for. We are currently running an internship program here at our publication, and occasionally, our interns are prone to making errors. To avoid any similar occurrences, I will review your ad myself this evening before the paper goes to press.

In addition, I have attached to this e-mail a voucher for a free one-week advertisement (5 lines). It can be used at any time, not just during our July promotional period. I hope this resolves the problem. If you have any questions about your current ad, or about using the voucher, please feel free to e-mail me.

Sincerely,

Marion Watt
Advertising Editor, The Daily Reporter

Custer Library is seeking people to assist with library activities as well as administrative tasks from April until August. If you would like to share your time with us, please fill out an application at the library's circulation desk. Brief descriptions of our open tasks are listed below. Although these are unpaid roles, helpers will be provided with a free lunch and full borrowing access to all library collections. Be sure to include the task number on your application form.

Event Host/Hostess (Task #312)
Greet visitors at library events, distribute program materials (if applicable), and answer questions about the library's facilities. You must be available for two evenings per month.

Interlibrary Loan Assistant (Task #209)
Retrieve books, CDs, and DVDs and prepare them for loans to other libraries. A strong knowledge of the library's layout and organizational system is required.

Books-On-Wheels Driver (Task #477)
Drop off and pick up books during the day from members of the community who are unable to come to the branch in person. You must have your own vehicle and a valid driver's license. You will be reimbursed for gas usage.

Readers Corner Tutor (Task #120)
Assist in tutoring children and young adults in reading skills. You must commit to three sessions a week. Experience in teaching is a plus but is not required.

To:	Joyce Clawson <clawsonj@pjinternet.com>
From:	Rebecca Blair <r.blair@custer-library.org>
Date:	April 4
Subject:	Application Accepted

Dear Ms. Clawson,

Thank you for your interest in helping out at Custer Library. Your application for Task #477 has been approved. All volunteers must attend a brief training session with our library director, Gretchen Howell, prior to beginning to work with us. The next session will be held on Tuesday, April 19, at 6 P.M. You will need to submit a recent photo when you come. This will be used for your library ID badge.

We really appreciate your assistance, and we look forward to working with you!

Sincerely,

Rebecca Blair
Program Coordinator, Custer Library

Notice to All Leblanc Supplies Customers

From 1 June, we will take more time to check for pricing accuracy before issuing an invoice. Currently, invoices are issued on the same day as the order, but under the new system, they will be sent 3 days later. Customers will still have 1 month to make returns or exchanges of unused goods.

The opportunities to earn points through our loyalty program will remain the same. One point will be earned per pound spent, and one bonus point per pound will be issued for the following:

- Bulk orders of 500 yards or more of a single fabric
- Repeat orders that continue for at least three months
- The purchase of the featured item of the month
- Funds spent with our business partner, Felosa Logistics

E-mail Message

To: Rohan Joshi <rjoshi@leblancsupplies.co.uk>
From: Marilyn Flannery <mflannery@leblancsupplies.co.uk>
Date: 27 June
Subject: Invoices

Hi Rohan,

I've just received an e-mail from Patrick Gordon of Anaheim Fashions. He placed an order on 21 June, and although the goods were delivered, he never received an invoice. I've issued a new one for him manually, and I have contacted him by phone to apologize for this oversight. If there is some kind of issue with the invoicing software, Mr. Gordon may not be the only customer affected. Could you please look into the matter to find out if there are any others? Delays like this could put too much pressure on our cash flow situation and may even lead to a loss of valued clients.

Thank you,

Marilyn

196. What does the invoice indicate about Swartz Incorporated?

(A) It creates graphic designs.
(B) It requested next-day shipping.
(C) It manufactures clothing.
(D) It ordered two colors of fabric.

197. Why most likely did Swartz Incorporated receive bonus points?

(A) For purchasing some buttons
(B) For patronizing Leblanc Supplies' partner
(C) For placing a bulk order over a certain size
(D) For repeating the same order for several months

198. What change does the notice inform customers about?

(A) An expansion of payment options
(B) An arrangement with a new delivery provider
(C) An extension of a product return period
(D) A revised timeline for issuing a document

199. When should Mr. Gordon have received an invoice?

(A) On 21 June
(B) On 22 June
(C) On 24 June
(D) On 27 June

200. What does Ms. Flannery ask Mr. Joshi to do?

(A) Check for some similar problems
(B) Make an apology to Mr. Gordon
(C) Upgrade some invoicing software
(D) Send a new invoice to Mr. Gordon

Stop! This is the end of the test. If you finish before time is called, you may go back to Parts 5, 6, and 7 and check your work.

PART 3

Questions 32-34 refer to the following conversation.

W: Welcome to the WRO Charitable Fundraiser. Please check the seating plan here. Can I take a note of the company you work for?
M: Sure, I'm the founder of Delta Digital, a leading developer of business software. I'm here to give a speech and make a sizable donation to your organization.
W: Oh, we are so happy to have you here, Mr. Reed! I have a special VIP welcome packet for you here. It includes some beverage vouchers and an event program.

Questions 35-37 refer to the following conversation.

W: Hello, I dropped my mobile phone a few days ago, and the screen is cracked. A friend of mine recommended bringing it here to be fixed. Can that be done without an appointment?
M: Yes, but I won't be able to look at it until later today. Can you leave the device with me for a few hours?
W: Oh, but I'll need my phone this afternoon. I have to drive out of town for a job interview, and I'll need to use the GPS on my phone.
M: I understand. Well, if you can bring it in at 9 o'clock tomorrow morning, I'll be able to fix it right away.

Questions 38-40 refer to the following conversation.

M: Hi, Rashida. Our supplier just dropped off the new uniforms for your employees. I'm going to bring them over to your branch this afternoon.
W: Thanks, Rob! And we need to make sure the old uniforms are recycled. It would be very wasteful to just throw them away. Could you find out what our options are?
M: No problem! Since the old shirts and pants don't feature our company branding, they could maybe be used by other people.
W: Exactly! We could even donate them to a homeless shelter. The one on Wells Street might be interested. One of us should ask them.
M: Well, I'll be passing Wells Street this afternoon. It's on my way to your branch.
W: That would be ideal.

Questions 41-43 refer to the following conversation with three speakers.

W1: Debbie, Calvin, I'd like to hear your ideas for improving staff morale in our workplace.
W2: Well, it's best that we listen to Calvin's ideas first, since he was successful in motivating staff at his previous job.
M: Well, I feel the best way to boost employee morale is to set targets and rewards. For instance, at this company, we could reward employees who sell a certain number of sofas or dining tables.
W1: Great idea.
M: Why don't we start by looking at the sales figures for our 3-seater sofas? Then we can set a target for staff and announce an attractive bonus.

Questions 44-46 refer to the following conversation.

M: Hi, welcome to Lotus Garden. We are excited to launch our new and improved menu this evening. Do you have a reservation?
W: Yes, it's under the name Sandra Potter, and I booked a table for four at 7 P.M.
M: Hi, Ms. Potter. I have good news for you. To celebrate the start of our new menu, we're offering 50 percent off our appetizers and desserts.
W: Wow! I noticed your squid starter on social media, and I'm tempted. But I don't know… I've never tried squid before.
M: Well, we let our diners try samples of our dishes before ordering. I can ask the chef to bring one to your table.

Questions 47-49 refer to the following conversation.

M: Hmm, I'm afraid your driving license is only for automatic vehicles. You need to have a license for manual cars.
W: Oh, but I only have one for automatic vehicles. That's why I hired a car with automatic transmission.
M: You rented a manual car through our Web site.
W: Really? I asked my assistant to make the booking. She may have made a mistake. Well, is there anything you can do for me?
M: We have another branch at the bus terminal downtown, and they have automatic vehicles available. I'll transfer your booking over, and you can take a taxi there.

Questions 50-52 refer to the following conversation.

M: Hi, Katie. Before we open the agency today, I'm going to add these 15 new properties to our Web site. I've taken photographs of all the rooms.
W: Okay, but we still need to hire an experienced company to start taking pictures of our homes. You're doing a good job, but professional photos would look better.
M: I know. I've already contacted Image Experts, a business that specializes in taking pictures of property. The owner of the business is coming here to meet me at 11 A.M. today.
W: Great! I'll join you for that. I want to make sure they offer reasonable rates for their services.

Questions 53-55 refer to the following conversation with three speakers.

M: Thanks for coming out to our company headquarters for this meeting.
W1: Yes, thank you, Ms. Olsen. We really hope you can show us some strategies to make our health food products more visible to potential customers on the Internet.
W2: I'm happy to be here. There are several ways to market products online. What did you have in mind?
M: Well, we've been considering working with popular social media influencers and having them endorse our products. We looked into it, though, and many of them request high fees.
W2: Well, one way to lower costs is to provide them with free products or a lifetime discount. Of course, that means you'd need to work with an individual who genuinely likes your products.

Questions 56-58 refer to the following conversation.

M: Hi, Maria, can I have a quick chat with you?
W: Of course. Is everything okay?
M: Well, I just came out of the board meeting, and we have decided to relocate our company to a larger workspace in the downtown area.
W: Oh, really?
M: Yes. We'll be hiring more staff and taking on new clients, so we need more space. It means we will probably close the office this Friday while we move.
W: Okay, but that's the final day of our pay period. If we close, I might not be able to hit my sales target.
M: I understand. We are going to lower the target this month to help all staff. So just work as hard as you can to reach it by Thursday.

Questions 59-61 refer to the following conversation.

W: Good afternoon. My name is Eva, and I'm the store manager. Can I help you with anything?
M: Yes, I recently started working at a local kindergarten, and I want to buy some art supplies to use in class. A friend recommended Art Hub supplies, but I can't find that brand anywhere.
W: A lot of people have been asking for that brand, but you can only buy those items directly through the company's Web site. They aren't stocked by retailers.
M: Oh, that's a little disappointing.
W: To be honest, we have lots of products that are at least as good as those items, and more affordably priced.
M: Well, I was hoping to get supplies today, so I'd be interested.
W: Great! I'd be happy to recommend some to you right now.

Questions 62-64 refer to the following conversation and diagram.

W: Thanks a lot for volunteering to greet everyone as they arrive at the technology conference, Timothy. Is everything going okay?
M: Yes, no problems so far. I enjoy meeting new people. And I want to give them a good first impression once they arrive for the event.
W: Great! Well, you're doing an excellent job.
M: Oh, actually, would you mind handing me the packet with the name badges in it? It's just under the table over there.
W: Sure, I see it. Here you are. Do you need any other help?
M: No, but I was wondering when my lunch break is. Can you check what time was assigned to me?

Questions 65-67 refer to the following conversation and schedule.

W: Dave, I don't think our firm has ever been so busy. All those advertising campaigns we've been running must be working. I've taken on twenty new business clients who are seeking help with their taxes.
M: I'm managing about twenty new accounts as well, and they've all sent in their tax returns for our advice. I'm glad we're hiring a new intern to help us with the paperwork. Oh, here's the interview schedule.
W: I forgot to tell you that I won't be able to join the interview on Friday morning. I'll be out of the office meeting a client.
M: No problem. I'll handle that one by myself.

Questions 68-70 refer to the following conversation and map.

M: Clara, let's talk about the festival we are planning to hold in the downtown area. We have managed to confirm over thirty different food vendors, each one specializing in a different type of cuisine. It should be a big success!
W: I agree! Once we get approval from the city council, we should start selling tickets. Do you have the downtown map there? I had an idea where we should sell the tickets.
M: Yes. Here it is.
W: Okay, I think we will sell the most tickets if we set up a booth at the corner of Wilbur Street and 14th Avenue. It's a very busy area, because it's near the shopping mall.
M: Sounds good. And don't forget to submit the application for the event permit as soon as possible.

PART 4

Questions 71-73 refer to the following excerpt from a meeting.

As you all know, we have found it difficult to break into foreign markets with our clothing ranges. I heard that another sportswear manufacturer overcame this issue by taking on an innovative strategy. They contacted famous sports celebrities in foreign markets and paid them to endorse their products, and it had a significant impact on sales. If we had endorsements from a few famous athletes, we could boost our brand recognition overseas. This would be a new approach for us, so I've invited Pamela Shepard from Global Consulting to our next meeting. Ms. Shepard provides expert advice to businesses on how to market products overseas.

Questions 74-76 refer to the following broadcast.

Next on WKRO Radio, we have your local news report. This morning, I'm at Magnolia Park in downtown San Diego, where the Mega Music Festival is due to take place over the next few days. The event was scheduled to begin at 10 A.M., but event organizers have been forced to push back the start time by three hours due to heavy rain and strong winds. Thousands of festivalgoers are waiting in line, and many have decided just to go home. If there is no improvement in the conditions, the organizers may have to provide ticket refunds. Anyone planning to attend the event can check the event Web site for regular updates on the situation.

Questions 77-79 refer to the following talk.

It's my pleasure to welcome you all to this online course hosted by Griswold Business Institute. I'm Richard Wright, and I'll be teaching you how to budget effectively and save money on your household bills, grocery shopping, and other things. As you know, this course differs from other similar courses in that it costs nothing for you to join! The only thing we ask is that you make a donation to one of our partnered charities if you feel the course has been beneficial to you. Now, I'm going to show you some slides that outline the structure of this 4-week course. Please mute your microphones for a few minutes.

Questions 80-82 refer to the following excerpt from a meeting.

Please don't forget that our cinema is hosting the premiere of the new Tom Wells movie next Saturday. That means we only have nine days to make sure everything is prepared. Each of you will be given special formalwear which you must wear that evening. We already have your measurements, and you should pick up your suit or dress from the admin office next Tuesday. Many of you have requested a ticket for a friend or family member to attend the event, but there is a limited number of tickets. I can't make any promises.

Questions 83-85 refer to the following tour information.

Hi, everyone, and welcome to the third stop on the tour, Petrucci Fountain. I hope you all brought the vouchers I handed out to you on the tour bus. Those can be used to get 50 percent off pizza and gelato at a nearby restaurant after we view the fountain. First, I'm going to tell you about the interesting method used to sculpt the statues surrounding the fountain. It's hard to believe, but all these statues were carved from one huge block of stone in the 1600s. The fountain's condition had deteriorated over the years, but work was completed last month to restore it to its original condition.

Questions 86-88 refer to the following excerpt from a meeting.

It's a pleasure to meet you all this morning. As some of you may know, my name is Tina Moore, and I'm the new Health and Wellbeing Officer here at the manufacturing plant. My job is to ensure that all employees are happy and coping well with the challenges of their jobs. Over the next few weeks, I will be scheduling counseling sessions for each of you in my office at 6 P.M. However, if you have normally left for home by that time, the timetable is somewhat flexible. Don't forget that you can reach out to me at any time at tinamoore@erdego.com. All messages will be treated as private and confidential.

Questions 89-91 refer to the following telephone message.

Hi, Bert. We have a slight problem with the software conference this weekend. The person who was supposed to deliver the keynote speech will not be able to attend the event. Miles Stanforth, the CEO of Stanforth Software, has had to pull out at the last minute, because he needs to fly to Australia for a family emergency. We cannot make any changes to the schedule, as it has already been posted on our Web site and sent out to all event attendees. So, I need you to think of some individuals who may be willing to take Mr. Stanforth's place and get in contact with them.

Questions 92-94 refer to the following talk.

Good afternoon, everyone. I hope you are all enjoying the Active Sports Convention. As the lead product designer at Alpine Pursuits, it is my pleasure to introduce our brand new model of tent, the Maverick 750. Among all the tents we have produced, we are confident that the Maverick 750 will be our most popular yet. One thing that makes this model truly innovative is that it can be completely reversed! This means that you can choose between two different colors, depending on which one you prefer. We have brought along some tents that can change from green to blue, and you can get one for free today by completing a survey. Just keep in mind, we could only fit 50 in our booth. So, head on over after my presentation if you're interested.

Questions 95-97 refer to the following talk and floor plan.

I'd like all waiting staff to know that we are welcoming a very special guest this Sunday. Margaret Burrows has been coming to our restaurant regularly since it opened thirty years ago, and she will be celebrating her 100th birthday here on Sunday. The party has been arranged by her daughter, who has requested the private dining room with two round tables. I want all of you to attend to the needs of the guests and make this a truly memorable occasion for everyone. When the guests arrive, remember to offer them a complimentary glass of sparkling wine or a soft drink. And, if you have any questions, please let me know.

Questions 98-100 refer to the following excerpt from a meeting and table.

To start off this meeting, I'd like to discuss our projected profits over the next six months. We expect our earnings to increase once our store moves from its current location in the suburbs to the downtown area next month. This area attracts a greater number of shoppers, and we believe sales of our mobile phone accessories will almost double. If you are interested in viewing our recent sales report, please contact our sales manager on extension 5-4-3. Another thing that will boost our sales is our new advertisement, which will be run on social media. If you haven't checked it out yet, I recommend having a look on our own company Web site.
